SEEKING MEN FOR

State Recruiting Officer Spends Day in Chattanooga in Conference With Prospects.

HELPING TO WIN THE WAR

Prof. F. M. Massey Stresses the Honor as Well as Importance of This Work.

Prof. F. M. Massey, head of Massey's school at Pulaski, has given up his school work temporarily to become state recruit secretary of the army Y. M. C. A., and that he is doing a good work is evidence by the large number of prominent men from Tennessee who have volunteered for

Prof Massey is in Chattanooga to confer with others of this city who are considering the matter of volun-teering, and he has good prospects of adding to the list of those who have

Prof. Massey in an interview given Prof. Massey in an interview given out Saturday calls attention to the fact that Tennessee is furnishing some of the best mer for the army Y. M. C. A. From the dates of June 16 to July 5 Tennessee reported more men to the Atlanta office than Florida. South Carolina, Alabama and Mississippi combined, and it is well that Tennessee is sending so many men, for the need is very great. More than 2,000 men are on the western front today serving from twelve to fourteen hours each day, and the war council says that there must be 6,000 such men by the first of September if the country is to measure up to its responsibility.

Dr. John R. Mott, who recently resulting the country is to measure up to calling the country is to measure up to its responsibility.

men by the first of September if the country is to measure up to its responsibility.

Dr. John R. Mott, who recently returned from the war zone, in calling for these 4,000 extra men, calls attention to the fact that only the biggest men in the country can supply this need and many of the best men are responding, such as Herbert L. Pratt, vice-president of the Standard Oil company, who said in speaking of his Y. M. C. A. experience: "There is no job in France too small for the biggest man in any American community. No president of a railroad or a bank or college, no minister or lawyer is too big for the job of taking care of our boys overseas."

Among the other great men who have gone from the east are E. H. Cluett, of the Cluett-Peabody company; E. J. Couper, of the Munsing-wear company. Among other, who have gone are President Matheson, of the Georgia school of Technology; William H. Danforth, president Raiston Purina company of St. Louis; Dr. Ernest M. Steres, rector St. Thomas and Fifth avenue, New York. Some of the big men of Nashville, including Dr. Carey Morgan, Walter A. Roberts, president Tinsley Millinery company; Dr. Geo. R. Mayfield, Vanderbuilt university: Prof. R. G. Cox, president Nashville Colloge for Young Women, and numbers of others are either on the way to France or are ready to go. Many of these men are going without salaries.

Gen. Pershing has demanded that his army shall be a clean army. He rolles upon the Y. M. C. A to train this army in all its activities, except the purely military. The middle-aged men of America who cannot serve as fighters must form just as essential part of the winning army as those who have gone and they may have men of America who cannot serve as fighters must form just as essential part of the winning army as those who have guns, and they may have the privilege of going just as near the front lines as they care to go, for the Y. M. C. A. man is called upon to suffer and endure hardships and he refuses to be left in the rear when the fighting men go to the front. So important has the Y. M. C. A. work become that the French and Italian armies have asked for the extension armies have asked for the extension of the work into their army, and the Y. M. C. A. has agreed to effect the

Y. M. C. A. has agreed to effect the system.

Prof. Massey said: "I do not believe that the general public has an adequate conception of the army Y work. This office has today received a report from New York that the business of the Y. M. C. A. in France alone in the month of June was $5,000,000. Big men are required to handle big business like this. All kinds of assistants are necessary. The motor transport service is constantly demanding high-class drivers.

"Gaps caused by death, physical break-downs and illness must be filled. Within the last few weeks two Y. M. C. A. women lost their lives and a man worker was killed by shell fire. Two other Y. M. C. A. men were gassed. I mention this in order that those who think the Y. M. C. A. work is too tame must have that idea reis too tame must have that idea re-moved from their minds at once. "It is not fair to allow the 2,000 men who are already in France, many men who are already in France, many of whom are at the breaking point, to bear these burdens alone. Neither is it fair to allow our boys to go without making every effort to care for them when they get there."

PREFERS DAUGHTER DEAD TO DANCING

Rev. P. B. Culpepper Makes Striking Statement in Sermon at Asheville.

Asheville, N. C., July 12.—"I had rather my daughter was dead and should be carried out to her grave than to see her go to a dance or card party, or to the theater," declared Rev. J. B. Culpepper, speaking at the Haywood Methodist church.

Mr. Culpepper had announced that the subject on which he would preach would strike home to four-fifths of the Christian population of Asheville. The subject turned out to be "Backsliding" and the speaker began with a very striking statement: That there would be no one in hell but backsliders.

Rev. Culpepper said it is an awful thing to be a backslider, to be losing out, to be going down. "If you have ever had more love for the Bible," he said, "or more of the peace of God in your heart, more of truth in your soul, more of loyalty in your life to your pastor, to your church, your soul, more of loyalty in your life to your pastor, to your church, your prayer meeting, your Sunday school, then you are a backslider.

"Backsliding," he continued, "means decay, moral rot—that's not too strong a word! Backsliding does mean rot. We hold in high esteem the man who is true. We have the greatest admiration for the woman who is true. We despise the false, the untrue, the deceitful."

In paying his respects to the wordly

In paying his respects to the wordly pleasures, Rev. Culpepper said: "I had rather my daughter was dead and had rather my daughter was dead and should be carried out to her grave than to see her go to a dance or card party, or to the theater. Why? Because when you do these things you go back on your solemn church vows, you go into self-indulgence, you back-slide. The Christian must deny himself or he will cease to be a real Christian and bear the name only; but God will know he is no longer a Christian.

"But, said a lady, 'the theater, the "'But,' said a lady, 'the theater, the cards, dancing are so small.'

"'Yes,' I said, 'a bullet is a small thing, but if it passes through your brain it will raise a big disturbance. The typhus germ is a very small thing, and cannot be seen with the naked eye and with difficulty by the highest powered microscope, but I have known Floridians to flee from the low-lands to the mountains to escape it. lands to the mountains to escape it. Why, Eve ate a little apple. She did not to eat a whole orchard for God to see how things were going. You don't have to eat a whole rotten steer to find out that the meat is tainted and find out that the meat is tainted and unfit for consumption.

"We have backsliders on the Sabbath, the seventh day. But if you will take time to notice, you will see that God has built up the universe on the scale of sevens. (All things move around the seven stars.) Discases go by sevens: Malaria will come to climax on the 7th, 14th or 21st day. Typhoid fever will come to its climax on the 7th, 14th, 21st, 28th, 35th or 42nd day. It is written in the corpuscies of day. It is written in the corpuscies of your body!" Rev. Culpepper here took up a discussion in full of the various causes of backsliding, one of the most com-mon of which, he said, was leaving the home community and leaving the church letter behind never to be called
